Instruction in:	Spanish
Primary Subject Area:	Spanish Language & Literature
CEA Partner Institution:	Veritas University

Description:

This course is designed for students who have a fairly good knowledge of the language. The course emphasizes a review and practice of grammatical structures through oral and written exercises. This review includes, among other concepts, a concentration on the differences between ser/estar, por/para, and preterite/imperfect. In compact groups, students have the opportunity to participate dynamically in class activities. Students will be evaluated by participation, assignments, midterm, written compositions and final exam. The primary goals of the conversation part of this course are to help students express themselves with confidence, to expand their vocabulary, and to enhance their communicative skills so that they are able to debate. Primary focus is concentrated around everyday situations and students are given the opportunity to practice both their listening and speaking skills. In addition, Spanish pronunciation is reviewed and practiced. Students compare and contrast people, places, situations and customs. They discuss ways to solve problems and talk about future vacations, marriage and work plans. Movies and literature are also topics for discussion.

Course Title:	SPN 202 Intermediate Spanish II
Host Institution Title:	SPN 202 Intermedio 2 gramática y conversación
Recommended Sem Credits:	5	Contact Hours: 80
Level(s)	200
Instruction in:	Spanish
Primary Subject Area:	Spanish Language & Literature
CEA Partner Institution:	Veritas University

Description:

This course is designed for students having a relatively good knowledge of Spanish. The course is based on reading exercises as well as simple text discussions. Students will develop a much more complex vocabulary and will be introduced to the personal pronoun vos, impersonal "se", "perfect" tenses, conditional tense, subjunctive mood, and comparative structures. Cultural and social activities are widely used as study material. Upon completion of this class, students should be able to hold a simple conversation and understand most everything they read. Students will be evaluated by participation, assignments, midterm, written compositions and final exam. The conversation part of this course promotes facility in understanding, speaking and writing the language. Emphasis is placed on situational, everyday conversation by enriching the students' vocabulary and correction of phonetics. Structured speech is worked on to provide a firm foundation in spoken Spanish with progression towards free conversation. Students will have the opportunity to practice their Spanish through communicative exercises such as oral projects and interviews with native Costa Ricans. This course is taken in conjunction with Spanish 201.
